Parliamentary Elections.

TO THE ELECTORS OF NARRELLAN.

Gentlemen,—As the Legislative Assembly is about to be dissolved, I have determined on now informing you that I shall not again be a Candidate for your suffrages, as my advance in years and failure in health preclude my giving attention to the requirements of your electorate. It is more than 20 years since I first had the honour of representing you, and continued to do so, with two exceptions of very short duration, up to the present time. When I submitted myself for the first time in 1859, it has been my privilege, with the exceptions before named, to retain your confidence and heartiest support, even when differing from some of my opinions and public acts. I trust I have always shown a sense of gratitude for the support I have uniformly obtained, and have striven to do all in my power to prove myself worthy of the confidence and trust reposed in me more by acts than speech in accepting the time of Parliament. However convinced I may be of my shortcomings, I have nothing to reproach myself with for the want of attention to your interests or neglect of the trust vested in me, and end my political life with a consciousness of having done nothing to lower the character of the constituency which I have had the honour of so long representing. No doubt the trust so long confided to me will easily be placed in better hands than mine. I now beg to wish you farewell.
I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN HURLEY.

ALL USE IT. IT IS AT EVERY PICNIC. IT IS IN EVERY KITCHEN.
It gives the finish to every dish, for gravies, soups, game, fish, or cold meats. It assists digestion and increases the appetite. It has a place at Government House, and is seen at every respectable artizan's. The protectionists use it because it is colonial, the free-trader because it is cheap. It is the especial favourite with all classes because, as one of the Sydney clergymen wrote "It is the best yet made." It is the

THE ONLY FIRST AND SPECIAL PRIZE FOR SEWING-MACHINES awarded at the Sydney International Exhibition of 1879 and '80, after a contest extending over six months, was gained by the NEW DAVIS VERTICAL-FEED MACHINE over all comers.
These wonderful machines are probably the greatest marvel of the sewing-machine era, combining the GREATEST POSSIBLE SIMPLICITY with a range of ADAPTABILITY and EFFICIENCY hitherto unthought of.
The work done by the DAVIS is being considerably imitated by other machines, but "'TIS AN IMITATION, AND NOTHING MORE."
Read the Judges' Award, which fully establishes the UNAPPROACHABLE EXCELLENCE of the DAVIS:—
"The New Davis Sewing-Machine, being a complete departure from the ordinary style of Sewing-Machine, POSSESSING ALL THE ADVANTAGES OF SUCH ORDINARY SEWING-MACHINES, and IN ADDITION an INCREASED RANGE OF WORK, with the GREATEST SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION and REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF WORKING PARTS, we consider it entitled to the first place in awards."
Also, 1st SPECIAL PRIZE at Queensland Exhibition, July, 1880.
Samples of work, and Illustrated Catalogues forwarded post free to any part of the colonies.
Full instructions gratis, and a liberal time payment system.

TANN'S PATENT RELIANCE SAFE.

"News and General Advertising Agency,
"Sydney, 29th July, 1880.
"Messrs. W. Mac Donnell and Co.
"Dear Sirs,—We have pleasure in stating that the TANN'S SAFE purchased from you some ten years ago proved a TRUSTY ONE at the Fire which destroyed our premises, 357, George-street, on Saturday night last. Upon its being broken open on Monday morning all the Books were found intact, as also Bank Notes and Cheques, of course a little crisped and discoloured by steam. Some valuable Jewellery was deposited in the smaller drawers, and these articles did not even appear tarnished. The heat in the part of the building where the safe was stationed must have been very intense, being in the centre of the fire, and near where it is supposed to have broken out, several packages of Messrs. Miller and Richards' hard metal type, within a few feet of the same, being melted into one solid mass.
"You will please send to our temporary Offices one of your No. 29 pattern Safes, by John Tann, and oblige yours truly,

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

A meeting of the Fellows and other friends and supporters of St. John's College was held on Saturday last in one of the halls of the College, for the purpose of hearing the annual report read, and for the distribution of prizes, &c., to the successful competitors at the recent college examinations. The chair was taken by Archbishop Vaughan, and there were present amongst other gentlemen, the Very Rev. Dean Sheridan; Very Rev. Dean Gibney, Vicar-General of Western Australia; Monsignor Lynch, Very Rev. Dr. Quirk, Very Rev. Dean O'Brien, Rev. E. Butler, M.A., Rev. D. P. Quirk, M.A., Rev. J. J. Garvey, Rev. P. J. Mahony, Rev. G. Dillon, Rev. P. Young, Rev. T. Le Menant, Rev. C. M'Carthy, Rev. M. H. Ryan; Messrs. P. A. Jennings, C.M.G.; W. A. Duncan, Henry Austin, D. O'Connor, M.L.A., Dr. Donovan, T. Butler, T. M. Slattery, Major Murphy, F. Freehill, M.A., E. G. Ellis, C. O'Neill, M.L.A. (New Zealand), and M'Dermott.

"Your Grace, Gentlemen,—Another year has passed since I had the honour of giving you some account of the progress of work at this our College of St. John's within the University. Since that time we have been steadily, and, I think I may add, earnestly engaged, in our pleasant vocation—in advancing the interest of learning and culture, of letters, and of religion. It is a pleasure to me to be able to say that the students, during the last twelve months, have given satisfaction; have applied themselves with intelligent earnestness to their studies, and have shown a respect for rule which evidences that spirit of self-government which is one of the qualities most essential for happiness in the future, and success in the battle of life. Though our development may seem somewhat slow, I think signs have been given that we are going in the direction of advance, and that the college is not falling short of the object for which it was set on foot. Since the re-opening—five years ago—thirty-four (34) students have entered, twelve of whom have graduated in the University, whilst six have taken the B.A. degree with honours. At the recent examinations, Mr. Brennan and Mr. Dalton passed the examination for B.A.—Mr. Dalton with first-class honours in Classics, and Mr. Brennan with honours in both Classics and Mathematics. Four of the students, namely Mr. Butler, Mr. Kenna, Mr. Flynn, and Mr. Coleman, passed their first year examination. Mr. Butler taking first-class honours in Classics, and placed on the honour list in Mathematics. Mr. O'Sullivan passed the matriculation examination with honours in Mathematics. I am glad also to state that lively competition has been carried on for the various college scholarships and prizes. Mr. Francis Butler has won the Jennings scholarship (£50)—open to students of the second year; and Mr. M'Evilly has gained the O'Connell scholarship (£50)—offered to students of the first year. The Leonard prize (£25) for Ecclesiastical History, has been carried off by Mr. Brennan. Mr. Dalley's prize (£5) for Sacred Scripture, was gained by Mr. Francis Butler. Mr. Coleman has won Monsigner Lynch's prize (£5) for Mental Philosophy; Mr. Francis Butler, Mr. Austin's prize (£5) for Classics, and Mr. Slattery's prize (£5) for Modern History; Mr. Brennan, Mr. Rubie's prize (£5) for Mathematics; and Father Garvey's prize (£5) for Modern Literature; Mr. Butler, Father Dillon's prize (£5) for Religious Instruction. Mr. Duncan's valuable prize—the 'Races of Mankind,' profusely illustrated—has been awarded to Mr. Coleman for his able essays on 'the Popes' and on 'the Religious Orders.' I think I may add that the papers written by the students on the various subjects connected with the prizes have been penned with great care, and exhibit, in many cases, not merely conscientious labour, but a high order of talent. Your Grace, gentlemen, it is a great encouragement to us, working in this college, to find our labours bearing fruit, and to feel that each year, as it goes by, sends forth a number of students into the great active world of life, armed for life's battle, and, I fondly hope, not unworthy to take a manly part in it. I need not say, your Grace and gentlemen, that your kindness and patronage on these occasions gives an additional spur to our energies, and urges us to labour all the more assiduously to merit your approbation."

The ARCHBISHOP then said:—Mr. Rector and Gentlemen, Fellows of St. John's College,—It has almost grown into a custom for me to address a few words to you on occasion of these annual re-unions; and as the Rector, when I asked him to free me this year, on account of extra press of work, seemed unwilling to let me off: and as I, myself, felt that some might think my interest was flagging if I remained silent, however good my excuse might be; as he desired me to say a few words, and as I too, after all, thought I had better follow his advice, I began to think within myself what subject I could talk about—what I could say which would be interesting and instructive, and at the same time more or less academical. I then began to recall some of my old readings, some of those pleasant memories which were bound up with the repose and quiet—I do not mean intellectual quiet, far from it—of a student's life. When certain courses of thought or action are displaying themselves in the modern world in which our lot is cast, it we have lived much in the past, we can scarcely help comparing them with the thoughts and actions of days gone by. When there is question, for instance, of the best way to give energy and expansion to modern universities and colleges, persons, like myself, who have no claim to lay down the law, cannot help feeling a pleasure in reverting to what was done years and years ago—how life and usefulness, how renown and a great name, were secured by our first parents—if we may so call them—in intellect and genius. I myself do not mean to insinuate for a moment that our universities and colleges are at all unpopular. It seems to me, on the contrary, that our University, with its corona of colleges, is yearly making a wider and deeper mark, and that the advance of culture is visible amongst us. However slowly this advance is made—and I do not say it can be very rapid—if it be made at all, we have something to be grateful for. All growth, especially that of a new nation, intellectually and ethically, is necessarily slow. The mind and character, the whole man, must go through a process of steady ripening. You may roast an apple in a very few minutes, but it takes a season to ripen it. It must have its time; it will not be forced: so with the action of the schools. We must all exercise ourselves in patience. The University and the colleges must be allowed their time, and they will finally do their work, and do it well. Latterly, I mean since I came to the colony, visible advances have been made in every department of the condition of the colony, it has surprised me that so much has been effected by the University, amidst many inevitable difficulties and discouragements. As to the colleges, St. Andrew's was not even built when I came here; the Warden of St. Paul's has shown clearly that his college is gathering new power and life; whilst of St. John's I can speak with some authority, since I have been all along so closely bound up with its dearest interests. (Cheers.) I will leave the visitors, who are around me, to judge whether or no, during the last five or six years, a renewed energy and usefulness has not been given to the college. Any one looking at the prospectus for this year will find that able lecturers have been secured for Sacred Scripture, mental philosophy, classics, mathematics, modern history, and natural science; gentlemen—if you will look at their names—who would do more than credit to any school of learning. Then, with regard to scholarships and bursaries, the friends of the college have not been asleep. The Rev. Father Young has founded a bursary of £50 a year; then there are the Jennings and the O'Connell scholarships, each of the value of £50, and another bursary of £50 recently established by myself. (Loud applause.) The Rector has already referred to the success of the students, and to their steadily increasing number. All I will say is, that we have about us evident signs of healthy growth, and of a generous and intelligent interest in higher education. No doubt success more startling, and advance more rapid, might have displayed themselves in the workings of the University and the colleges; and there are those who, with considerable ability, have tried to point out the flaw and suggest the remedy. What I propose to invite your attention to is not as to how the University of Sydney might acquire increased vitality, but how, so far as I can discover, the great schools of the old time, the great parent schools of secular thought, acquired the extraordinary life and expansion which they certainly displayed. The conditions of life, in almost every particular, are so different now from what they were in Athens and her schools some twenty centuries ago, that it would be obviously impossible to adopt their methods, though I am not quite so sure that some useful hints might not be picked up in connection with them. The principle of intellectual life is the same after all, however, according to circumstances, it may have to throw itself into shape, and display itself in its working dress, in the different ages of the world. However that may be, I shall confine myself to calling your attention to what appears to me to have been the secret of the success of the Athenian schools, without hazarding an opinion as to whether or not they might, in this way or that, however indirectly, suggest thoughts which might be of practical use at the present hour. Let us accompany Cicero and his companions to Athens. I will quote his own wonderfully realistic words from the Fifth Book, just the beginning—"De Finibus." He says: "After hearing Antiochus in the Ptolemæum, in the company of Piso and my brother and Pomponius and my cousin Lucius, for whom I had a brother's love, we agreed to take our evening walk in the Academy, chiefly because that spot would be the least crowded at that time. So we all met at Piso's house, as was agreed, and, chatting as we went, walked the six stadia, between the Gate Dipylum and the Academy. When we reached the scenes so justly famous, we found the quietude we craved. 'Is it a natural sentiment,' asked Piso, 'or a mere illusion which makes us more affected when we see the spots frequented by men worth remembering than when we merely hear their deeds or read their works? It is thus that I feel touched at present, for I think of Plato, who, as we are told, was wont to lecture here. Not only do those gardens of his close by remind me of him, but I seem to fancy him before my eyes. Here stood

Sir Henry Parkes has his country house, to ascertain if there was any foundation for the statement, and the reply received was,—"Not true—saw him half an hour ago."

THE annual meeting of fellows and other supporters of St. John's College for the reading of the report and distribution of prizes, &c., was held on Saturday last, in one of the college halls, under the presidency of Archbishop Vaughan. The chairman delivered an address on the ancient educational schools of Athens, and other parts of Greece, drawing an interesting parallel between them and the universities and affiliated colleges of the present day. A full report will be found in another column.

WITH reference to Mr. Renwick's letter in Saturday's Herald stating that a lady without making purchases in his millinery room had inquired of the person in charge whether she had any grievances, a correspondent writes to say that "this was without the knowledge of any lady connected with the movement in favour of the shopwomen. In only three instances were inquiries made in any shop, and then only of responsible forewomen, who while congratulating themselves on the consideration accorded in their own establishments, were anxious that something should be done for their less fortunate sisters. The information obtained was from invalids, women who had given up the drapery business in consequence of its extreme fatigue, and the mothers and friends of shop girls. Moreover it was not the assistants in early-closing houses, but those who had to stand till nine or ten or eleven at night whom it was chiefly sought to benefit. If the movement leads to the wider adoption of the early-closing system, and the permission for drapery assistants to rest occasionally, the promoters will not consider their efforts to have been in vain. The minor matter of how, when, and where seats had best be provided can easily be arranged between proprietors and their employees."

NEWS has been received at Auckland that the officers of the French war-ship Gurocher report that the French naval division in the Pacific, comprising the ironclads La Victorieuse and Atlio, and Le Chasseurs, made an expedition against the Kanakas of La Dominique, who had killed and eaten some white men. About 200 troops, with two mounted guns, were landed. Two shots were fired, and one man killed. Seventy-two prisoners were taken. When the remainder of the natives heard the reports of the guns, they fell on their faces and surrendered. They were transported to the island of Karaka.

THE fortnightly meeting of the City Municipal Council will be held in the Town Hall, to-morrow morning. There are thirty-one motions on the business paper, but only a few are important. Alderman O'Connor has notified that he will move that the City Surveyor be instructed to report on a site suitable for a meat market; and Alderman Hordern that he will ask for communications to be made with the fire brigades urging them to united action in giving alarms of fire, and that the tower of the Town Hall be used for look-out purposes. There will be submitted for adoption reports and recommendations in connection with the management of departments of the Town Clerk, the City Treasurer, and the City Surveyor, and the reprimanding and reinstating in office of the Mechanical Engineer. Alderman Davies has given notice of a motion to the effect that this officer's salary be reduced by £100 a year. It appears that in the opinion of Alderman Withers, the question of Sydney being suitably supplied with water is not yet decided, and that gentleman has announced that he will move for a deputation to wait upon the Government, to urge them to inquire into the merits of what he terms "a modification of the Nepean scheme." Alderman Playfair intends soliciting the Council to fix the salary of the new City Solicitor at £850 a year, to abolish the late practice of permitting that officer to pocket costs in police cases, and to demand that these be paid into the City Treasury. Alderman Taylor intends moving the adoption of reports recommending that new engines be erected at Botany and Crown-street, at a cost of £31,200; also that the City Engineer be instructed to at once prepare plans and specifications of the engines, and that tenders for them be invited in the colony. Finally, the Council will be asked to consider tenders for cattle sale-yard debentures, and for various works in different parts of the city.

RAPID progress is being made with the erection of the new lighthouse at South Head, the great preponderance—unusual at this time of year—of fine weather over wet, enabling the contractors to keep their men at work almost constantly. The wings are finished, but not roofed: the tower walls and the first few courses of masonry, forming the base of the tower itself, are completed, and there is every likelihood that the work will all be done within contract time. The new lighthouse will be 8 feet loftier than the old one, and its lantern will be larger and better lighted than that which, for over sixty years, has flashed its warning over thirty miles of ocean to mariners heading for Port Jackson. The light used will be electricity, and ample provision is being made for generating it, on the latest scientific principle, by means of a large gas engine. On every holiday and every Saturday afternoon the lighthouse is visited by sightseers: and the well-worn steps of the old tower are invaded by curious people whom Mr. J. R. Siddons, the light-keeper, often finds it difficult to persuade to mount in parties of only two or three at a time. One legend connected with the old building is amusing even if it be not true. It tells how the blacksmith (a convict) employed during its erection applied to the overseer for a holiday. The request was decisively refused, and an hour afterwards the overseer while standing on the cliffs had the surprise of seeing Vulcan hurl the bellows of his forge far into the waters of the Pacific below. There were not in the colony at this time (1818) another pair sufficiently powerful to do the work required: it took nearly a year to import them from England, and in the meantime the blacksmith had his holiday. Whether he took it at Pinchgut or at Cockatoo is not stated.

A CERTAIN fraud on the Lands Office has been perpetrated by means of a cheque entrusted to Mr. J. T. Evans, one of the clerks in that department, a youth about nineteen years of age. It seems that it was the custom every month for Evans to draw out the cheques for the payment of the salaries of permanent officers of the Lands Department, to take them to the Under-Secretary for his signature, and then, in company with the accountant, to lodge them in the banks to the credit of the officers in whose favour they were drawn. The usual course of procedure was followed on Thursday last, so far as that the batch of cheques amounting to about £840 were drawn up by Evans, passed on, and duly signed by the Under-Secretary. The particular cheque by which the fraud was effected was made payable to one of the country appraisers, and was for £18 15s. After the name in the body of the cheque, and before the words "Eighteen pounds fifteen shillings" there was a considerable space, no doubt left purposely, and this Evans appears to have filled in with the words "(Commissioners and others) eight hundred and," and inserted "8" before "£18 15s." in the usual marked space for the figures, thus leading to the inference that the proceeds of the cheque were to pay commissioners and other officers, though a particular appraiser's name only appeared. About noon Evans left the Lands Office, as was supposed, to lodge all the cheques; but, instead of doing so, he presented the altered cheque to the cashier of the Bank of New South Wales. The cheques having ordinarily been lodged and not paid, and, Evans not being accompanied as usual by the accountant, the bank cashier asked how it was that the cheque was to be cashed. Evans at once replied that on this occasion the salaries were to be paid to the officers at the Lands Office, and as the cheque was uncrossed, as it indicated that the proceeds were for more than one officer, and as a memorandum showing how it was to be paid had been carefully drawn out by Evans, the bank cashier paid the amount without inquiry. Evans returned to his duties in the Lands Office about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and thus averted any suspicion of his fraud. Next day, however, he was missing, and before the close of the office, his forgery had been discovered. On the cheque being examined, it was clearly apparent, the words and figure inserted being in lighter ink than the original writing on the cheque. The police authorities were communicated with, and the detective force speedily obtained information which leaves little doubt that Evans took his departure from Sydney on Friday morning, by the ship Cambrian Monarch, for San Francisco. It has also been ascertained that on Thursday a young man went to a bank in the city and obtained a draft on London for £640, but also payable in San Francisco. It may be safely assumed that the Government will make arrangements with the bank by which payment of the draft will be withheld until something more is known of the person in whose favour it is drawn; and as it is almost certain that it was Evans who drew the draft, the Government will, no doubt, recover this portion of the money. The necessary steps to secure the arrest of the culprit will at once be taken. The early departure of the San Francisco mail steamer will afford ready means for his pursuit and capture, if it is necessary that so much expense should be gone to to bring him back.

THE Mining Department has had a good deal of work thrown upon it since the discovery of the Temora Goldfield. Its wardens are generally amongst the first Government officers to reach such places, and one of their number was dispatched to Temora immediately upon authentic information of the rush being received. Mr. De Boos was the gentleman chosen, and he was accompanied by the Mining Registrar from Woodstown, who has taken up his abode on the field. In the early days of the rush also, the department requested the Survey department to cause a township to be laid out at Temora. This was done, but the population increased with so much rapidity that it became necessary to lay out additional streets and allotments, which is being done at the present time. About a fortnight ago the Minister for Mines notified to the Police Department the urgent necessity for a large number of constables to be stationed on the field; and upon this Mr. Fosbery took active steps for sending there a sufficient force to preserve order. The Minister for Justice has appointed Mr. Sharpe, late of Copeland, to the position of police magistrate at Temora. This gentleman is now in Sydney, and will leave to-day, so that his arrival at his destination may be anticipated to-morrow. His position as magistrate at Copeland will be filled by Mr. De Boos. Mr. Sharpe carries with him instructions from the Minister to report as early as possible upon the most desirable means for supplying the field with water as well as upon the physical features of the country. He has also been desired to ascertain what land is necessary as a common for pasturing miners' stock upon. On Friday last a deputation from Temora requested Mr. Baker to bring under the notice of the Government the necessity for appointing a postmaster on the field. The application was acceded to, and we understand that Mr. M'Kenzie has been appointed to the office. Mr. Baker also promised to forward a representation to the Postmaster-General as to the advisableness of the goldfield being connected with Cootamundra by telegraph. It will thus be seen that the Department is endeavouring to meet the requirements of the diggers as rapidly as its means will allow.

WE have been favoured by the Minister for Mines with a copy of the following telegram received from Warden De Boos on Friday evening:—"Present population at Temora, between 7000 and 8000. Claim above Blomfield's in Eastern township have washed to-day 19 loads dirt for five pennyweights to the load, nuggets picked out before washing. Many claims are striking gold as they report to me, and two miles above Deutscher's selection gold has been sunk on, and a rush with numerous disputes has taken place on the ground. This will make the line of lead some five miles long. My own impression is that there is no lead on the field, but simply a run of patches, as no continuation has been traced. As the claims run to the west they seem to get better and deeper and there is every chance that a rich, deep lead may be struck further westward. The miners are all in good health. There is no grumbling, and very few leaving the ground. Pray press on Mr. Warden Sharpe to come up at once, as it will make difficulties if he takes a different reading of the regulations from that which I have laid down."

THE Gundagai Times says:—"For some time a discussion has been carried on in the correspondence columns of the S. M. Herald and Echo as to whether 'Temora' is an aboriginal name or not. We are now, through the courtesy of Dr. M'Killop, J.P., in a position, we think, to set the matter at rest. There is at present a patient in the Gundagai hospital named Patrick Houlaghan, and he states that in the year 1848 he and Mr. J. D. Macansh proceeded to the scene of the present rush for the purpose of taking up a cattle-station. While camped there Houlaghan was on one occasion perusing a copy of Ossian's poems, when Mr. Macansh took the book from him, and commenced reading the description of a castle called Temora. Mr. Macansh appeared to be struck by the poetic beauty of the name, and said to Houlaghan that he would christen the place where they were 'Temora.'"

THE Temora gold-field has caused a noticeable increase in the number of passengers conveyed to Cootamundra by the railway during the past month over that of the preceding month. The average number of persons who take a passage by the night mail train to Cootamundra each evening, from Redfern station, is between 50 and 60, and the sight just before the train leaves of an evening is animated to a degree. The following table shows the number of tickets issued at the stations named for Cootamundra during the month of July: Sydney, 722; Central, 56; Ashfield, 8; Granville, 32; Liverpool, 8; Campbelltown, 15; Menangle, 1; Douglas Park, 30; Picton, 5; Mittagong, 8½; Bowral, 1; Moss Vale, 9; Marulan, 2; Goulburn, 89; Breadalbane, 2; Gunning, 10; Jerrawa, 1; Yass, 59; Bowning, 7; Binalong, 14½; Rocky Ponds, 2; Wallandbeen, 30; Bethungra, 54; Junee, 25; Wallace Town, 2; North Wagga, 3; Emu Plains, 4; Bowenfels, 2; Wallerawang, 6; Spring Hill, 1; Blayney, 5; Orange, 34; Wellington, 34: total, 1267. The bulk of the passengers, so far, have come from Newcastle. Of course large numbers have made their way to the diggings from other directions, as is shown by the population having now reached the respectable total of nearly 10,000 persons.

THE Sydney correspondent of the Melbourne Jewish Herald says:—"The engagements of five Jewish young ladies are publicly announced. But unfortunately two of these young ladies are engaged to be married—and soon, I believe—to two Christian gentlemen; this will make the third mesalliance during the past month. The frequent occurrence of such intermarriages within the past few years must give 'food for reflection' to every right-minded Jew in the colonies. With whom lies the fault of such contretemps, and what is likely to be a good remedy for such a disease? In my opinion the fault lies with the parents, for the following reasons, which are applicable to Jews in Victoria as well as in New South Wales, to those in New Zealand as well as those in Queensland:—Very few parents keep a Kosher house, and are not particular as to what they eat; children observe their parents enter a restaurant, sit down, and eat whatever is placed in front of them; they are taken by their parents to an outing, and are regaled with oysters and other forbidden food; and many families have oysters and prawns in their very homes. Jewish children are not sent to Jewish schools where they are taught their religion, but are allowed to pick up all kinds of anti-Jewish habits at the schools where they are taught; they are allowed to eat at the houses of their Christian friends, to go to their picnics, &c. What can possibly result from this but marriage? Here we have another striking proof of the authenticity of the Bible, of the value of the second commandment, which speaks about visiting the 'iniquity of the parents upon the children.' The parents do wrong, and neglect the ways of true religion, and are punished by seeing their children withdraw from their faith, their family, and their God, who will at some future time require their parents to render an account of the stewardship of their children."

ON Wednesday evening last Mr. P. Burke, of the firm of Burke, Coulson, and Leeds, of Orange, was the recipient of a gold watch, accompanied by an address, on the eve of his departure to assume the management of the business of the firm in Sydney. The presentation was made by the Mayor of Orange, who, in graceful terms, testified to the respect and esteem in which Mr. Burke had been held on all hands during his residence in the district. Mr. Burke responded in a feeling manner, and while expressing his sorrow at having to leave those who had been his friends and acquaintances for the past seventeen years in the district, and thus severing so many associations, he assured them that he would never forget their kindness, and would do his utmost to serve their interests in his new sphere of labour.

A MEETING consisting of the Mayors of Paddington and Woollahra, and Aldermen Ardlett, Campbell, Neild, and Sladen (delegates from the Councils of Woollahra and Paddington) was held on Friday evening, at the Council-chambers, Woollahra, to consider the advisability of applying for an Act, authorising the Councils to recover from property-owners part cost of kerbing and guttering and paving. Mr. Trickett was moved to the chair. It was pointed out that the necessity of kerbing and guttering and paving throughout the boroughs, especially in thickly-populated parts, was of the greatest importance for drainage, sanitary, and other purposes, besides improving the symmetrical appearance of the streets, and although many residents availed themselves of the Council's services in having the works carried out, and paying a moiety, others refused to do so, and the footways and gutters consequently presented a broken and uneven appearance, and were otherwise objectionable. The meeting therefore desired to obtain power to enforce such works in places where deemed advisable. Resolutions were carried, affirming the desirability of applying for an Act to carry out the above object, and inviting the co-operation of the four boroughs of Paddington, Woollahra, Waverley, and Randwick.

THE following is a return of tin ore received at Newcastle and Morpeth for the week ending 31st July, 1880:—Tamworth, 17 tons 16 cwt. 2qrs. The following is a return of copper ore received at Redfern station for the week ending 31st July, 1880:—Wellington, 10,584 ingots, 280 bags, 111 tons 4 cwt.; Goulburn, 586 ingots, 3 tons, 8 cwt.: total, 114 tons 12 cwt.

A PLAIN and fancy dress ball was given on Thursday last, in the Temperance Hall, Newtown, under the patronage of the Mayor of Newtown, by Mr. Alfred Read, to celebrate the second anniversary of the opening of his dancing academy at Newtown. Upwards of 300 ladies and gentlemen were present, and the largest number were fancy dresses, which enlivened the scene very considerably. Dancing was kept up until an early hour to the strains of Mr. Bailey's band, who played lively airs and in good time for dancing.

OUR readers will probably remember that in March last Mr. Herbert Kaeppel, the Sydney representative of Messrs. Schmedes Erbsloh and Co., invited some fotyz gentlemen to test the preserving qualities of Jannasch's patent conserve salt on meats, &c., sent from Berlin. The result was so successful that the agents have brought quantities of the salt to the colony. The conserve acts on meat, game, dairy produce, and fruit, and is said to be effectual in preserving the quality without destroying the appearance of the articles subjected to its powers. The approaching season warns us that precautions with food are necessary and advisable. Those willing to try the effect of Jannasch's patent will see from our advertising columns that Messrs. A. Rowan and Co., Pitt-street, can supply them with the material.

A VERY interesting and instructive lecture was delivered by Mr. John Rossby, M.L.A., on Friday last, in the Congregational Church, Rookwood, in connection with the Hope of Rookwood Lodge, No. 97, I.O.G.T. There was a large attendance, the room being well filled. Mr. A. M'Leod Davis, G.W.V.T., presided. The choir of the lodge commenced the proceedings by singing the hymn, "Work, for the Night is Coming." After which the chairman introduced Brother Rossby, who was heartily applauded on rising to address the meeting. The lecturer set forth the numerous evils produced by the use of strong drink. He illustrated his remarks by mentioning several cases to his own knowledge where drink was the cause of ruin and despair. The lecturer displayed throughout the lecture his usual eloquence and earnestness, and at the conclusion received a well-merited hearty vote of thanks. A vote of thanks was also tendered to the chairman. Sister Andrews presided at the harmonium. The public meeting was closed at 9.15, after which the lodge, proceeding to business, installed the officers elected for the ensuing quarter.

A VERY pleasant meeting took place on Thursday last in connection with the Hope of St. Leonards Lodge, No. 98, I.O.G.T., in the Oddfellows' Hall, North Shore. Three members were initiated, after which the officers of the Hope of Sydney Lodge were received as visitors, as also some of the officers of the hero of Waterloo Lodge, No. 25. Bro. M'Leod Davis, G.W.V.T., with the assistance of Bros. Barnett and Toms, installed the officers elected for the ensuing quarter. Five propositions for membership were received and attended to. For the good of the Order, Bros. Vaugh, Veal, and Willington made some very good remarks as advice to those present.

CONSTABLE BARKER conveyed a man named Charles Lucas to the Infirmary on Saturday morning in a fit. He was admitted to the institution and attended to by Dr. Moffitt.

ABOUT half-past 8 o'clock on Saturday night, a man named Frank Campbell, 23 years of age, and a new arrival in the colony per ship William Hales, was crossing George-street, opposite the Central Police Office, and heedlessly ran against a horse attached to one of several omnibuses passing at the time. He was knocked down and sustained a cut on the forehead which necessitated his removal to the Infirmary where he was attended to. The man was somewhat the worse for liquor, and an eye-witness of the occurrence states that no blame is attributable to the driver.

SENIOR-CONSTABLE SMITH reported at the Central Police Station on Saturday, that at about 5 o'clock that afternoon a boy named Henry Dixson, son of Mr. H. Dixson, tobacconist, 121, York-street, aged 2½ years, was knocked down in King-street by running against a horse attached to a buggy driven by a boy. The little finger on the child's right hand was bruised, but he did not sustain any serious injuries. He was taken by his father to Dr. Warren, and attended to by that physician. Although every inquiry was made, the police could not find out to whom the buggy belonged. Some bye-standers asserted that the driver was blameless in the matter, and that the child ran in front of the vehicle, which was being driven slowly down the street.

A CONTRIBUTOR to a Victorian country paper, speaking of the sympathy for Ned Kelly, says:—"I find it exists to a shameful extent, and there is talk in some quarters of a petition for the arch-scoundrel's reprieve. So blunted is the sense of right and wrong in the minds of a great body of the public, such a petition would receive thousands of signatures."

IN the Otago Daily Times of the 27th ultimo, the following telegram appears under the same date from Christchurch:—"The number relieved at the soup kitchen last week averaged 108 per day. A large number of these were men travelling through Christchurch in search of employment." How it is that soup kitchens are necessary where men can afford to refuse 1s. 6d. and 2s. 6d. an hour is not explained, but the coincidence is somewhat remarkable.

AT 12 minutes past 5 on the afternoon of the 28th ultimo the heaviest shock of earthquake experienced in Wellington for a long time was felt. The effect in the House of Parliament was decidedly alarming, and startled members immensely, the debate being completely interrupted for a short time. The building creaked and swayed in a most formidable manner, but no damage was done.

IN the action of White v. Hoddle on Wednesday, the plaintiff's evidence (says the Melbourne Telegraph) was continued. He was asked why he had not taken action in this matter from 1875 to 1878. Witness said that he had never heard of the declaration of trust till 1878. In answer to a juror, witness said that directly he heard about the declaration of trust he obtained leave of absence from the Bank of New South Wales at Mudgee, where he was stationed, and came to Melbourne. He saw Mr. Styles, general manager of the bank, and asked him, as a personal friend, to try to bring about a settlement of the dispute. He went to his grandfather's house, but the door was shut in his face. He then went to his lawyers. He had been compelled to mortgage his life policies, indeed, everything he had, to raise money to carry on the suit. The next witness was John Richard Withers. He said he was clerk to Thomas Clark from 1849. He managed Clark's conveyancing business. He remembered the end of September, 1872, and saw in Clark's office a reconveyance of a mortgage. There was also a document that was new to him, called a declaration of trust. He saw it in Clark's hands in his room. The contents of the deed were to the effect that Robert Hoddle held the property mentioned in trust for his wife and grandchildren. The evidence of Thomas Clark, solicitor, taken on commission in Queensland, was then read by Mr. Purves. The witness is at present confined as a lunatic in an asylum at Woogaroo. The evidence was most voluminous, and occupied Mr. Purves nearly four hours in reading. Clark's evidence confirmed the statement made by counsel in opening the case, that a declaration of trust was executed by the defendant in favour of his grandchildren, that he drew up the deed, and was paid by Mrs. Hoddle for doing so. The next witness examined was the Very Rev. Dean Macartney. He testified that he had known the defendant and his wife since 1852. They were parishioners of his. The Court then adjourned.

SOME little excitement has been caused in Gundagai within the past few days (says the Times) by the discovery of gold on Brumby's Hill, Broadribb's Flat, within a gunshot of the tollgate at South Gundagai. At present three parties of men are prospecting there, and an occasional nugget is picked up. The prospectors are James Elliott and Sanderson, George Deighton and W. Davis, and three others, and they are sanguine of finding a payable reef. Gold has often been found in that locality, but no one thought it worth following up. The opinion of Mr. Wilkinson, the Government geologist, is that plenty of gold exists in the neighbourhood, and that some of the leads will be found to cross one another.

The NEW GOVERNOR of CAPE COLONY.

[BY CABLE.]
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WELLINGTON, SUNDAY.

Sir Hercules Robinson will leave almost immediately for the Cape, via Australia, to fill the position of Governor of Cape Colony, and will be succeeded here by Sir Arthur Gordon, the present Governor of Fiji.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA HOUSE.

More than forty years have passed since "Nicholas Nickleby," a farce in two acts, founded on the popular work of that name, by Boz, was first played at the Royal Adelphi. So powerful were the picture drawn and so rapidly did they appeal to the public, that the adaptor, with a keen eye to business, anticipated the end, and had the dramatic version performed before the publisher had issued the concluding numbers. How many abuses were exposed and what amelioration has been wrought in the conditions of the victims by Dickens's writings can scarcely be estimated, certain it is that their popularity has been immense; and though establishments of "Do the boys Hall" class are things of the past, there is still great satisfaction to certain portions of the community in watching the miseries of poor Smike, the thrashing of Squeers, the exposure of the villain Ralph, and the good done by Newman Nogga. The crowded house which assembled on Saturday night were doubtless partly attracted by the entertainment; but the fact that the performance was for the benefit of the popular comedian, Mr. J. R. Greville, must be largely taken into account. The play was put upon the stage as well as the present limited accommodation at the Opera House would allow. In the opening scene Mr. Squeers (Mr. Sterling Whyte) gave his new pupils a foretaste of future supplies in Yorkshire, the "two penn'orth of milk and bread-and-butter for three" which was to fortify the five hungry boys for the journey outside a coach in winter. Here, too, Nicholas Nickleby (Mr. Emmett) joined Squeers, accompanied by the arch villain Ralph (Mr. Overton). Next Kate Nickleby (Miss Henriques) is introduced to the Mantalini establishment, to work twelve hours daily, fourteen when there is extra work, for the munificent sum of from five to seven shillings a week. Mrs. Greville as Madame Mantalini, the dupe of her disreputable husband, played naturally and well, but the eccentricities of the self-constituted lady-killer Mantalini were burlesqued by Mr. C. Brown. The tea-party created uproarious laughter, Miss Kate Foley as Fanny Squeers excelled herself. The silly simper, the eagerness to have a real sweetheart, and the make-up alike astonished those who have been prepared by her most capable acting in other pieces; capital supports were Miss Price (Miss Tilly Lake), John Brodie (Mr. H. N. Douglas), and Nicholas; the whole business was thoroughly well done. Smike, in his lonely misery, his longing for a friend, his dread of the stick, and his dog-like fidelity to Nicholas were so well developed by Miss Melrose that she fully divided the honours with Nicholas; few representations of this grateful part have done better than Mr. Emmett, and the recognition of his merit was universal; the school scene was a fitting climax to the first act, and Squeers apparently had a sound thrashing, which was encored. Mr. Greville, as Newman Nogg, was the very embodiment of Dicken's original, his welcome of the wanderers and final defiance of Ralph were triumphs in their way. To judge by the reception of this piece, and considering the very good style in which it is acted, "Nicholas Nickleby" would have been good for several nights. After the first act, the principal actors were called before the curtain, and at the close of the piece the curtain was raised in answer to the applause; as it fell Mr. Greville stepped forward and addressed the audience. He thanked them for the large number assuring them that after the company's losses liberal support was requisite, as well as pleasant; he explained that they had intended to make a six months' sojourn, but the destruction of the Victoria Theatre had changed all their plans; he had been asked what he thought of Mr. John Bennett, and for answer he would quote "Checkmate," that "he was a gentleman all through, and that they got on like a house on fire." The season would close on Monday night, with a benefit to Mr. Dodge, the business manager. Mr. Greville hoped to meet the Sydney public by-and-bye with his company, and to receive as cordial a welcome as had been given them this time. The burlesque "La Gazza Ladra" followed in merry style. Mrs. Greville and Miss Melrose for their dance and duet, Miss Kate Foley for her song and dance, Mr. Emmett for Isaac's song, and Mr. Greville for his wonderful sword feats, were respectively encored. The performance evidently gave great satisfaction.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

At the Queen's Theatre, on Saturday night, a drama, entitled "The Slave's Revenge," was substituted for "Esmp." The leading characters in this work—which is really the play better known as "Dred," slightly altered and revised—were sustained, fully to the satisfaction of a very large audience, by the Georgia Jubilee Singers and the members of the Queen's Theatre Company. The dancing and singing of the former were especially well appreciated, while the acting of the dramatic company was throughout of a high order of merit. The effects were exceptionally well managed, and the scenery very pretty. This drama will be repeated to-night, and another large attendance may confidently be expected.

BOTANY BAY.

A good attendance of visitors patronised Mr. Frank Smith's pavilion at Botany on Saturday afternoon last. Dancing and skating were the chief attractions. The music was supplied by the Young Australian Band in a very efficient manner. These afternoon excursions are becoming very popular, as there is very good accommodation, and the transit from Sydney is easy.

A private sleight-of-hand and mesmeric seance took place on Friday evening, at the residence of Mr. W. J. Harris, Kent-street North. The entertainment commenced with a number of conjuring feats, in which Mr. Harris proved himself to be singularly adept, and completely mystified the company by the manner in which he linked together apparently solid rings, disposed of coins by a breath, &c. Mr. Harris afterwards successfully put some of the company under mesmeric influence, and after an exhibition of clairvoyancy he held a "spiritualistic table seance," at which he produced, by natural powers, some of the phenomena produced by professional spiritualistic mediums. Mr. Harris contends that he has in him "all the requisite power of producing the so-called spiritual phenomena," and that he is "capable of producing, by his own mental as well as physical electricity, all the astounding phenomena of so-called mediumistic manifestations. He has devoted a great deal of time and attention to the subject, and appears to have strong mesmeric powers. The phenomena produced on Friday night equalled the performances of ordinary professional mediums as seen in the colonies, but fell far short of the wonderful results of certain leading spiritualistic circles in England, which have led to so much patient investigation on the part of Professors Crookes and Wallace and other eminent scientific men. Mr. Harris, however, evidently possesses a power which, in the interests of truth and science, he should develope as highly as possible.

AN interesting musical contest between two well-known cornet players will take place in the old Exhibition building, Prince Alfred Park, on Friday evening next. Mr. M'Mahon, who secured second honours in a similar match which took place some time ago in the Exhibition building, threw down the gauntlet to the winner, Mr. W. Thompson, who has accordingly accepted the challenge, the contest being for £50 a side. As an additional attraction, a concert will be given on the occasion, in which several well-known performers are to take part. It is understood that a test piece has been written expressly for the contest by Mr. Lascombe Searell, who has signified his intention of dedicating the composition to the successful competitor.

Our Brisbane correspondent telegraphs:—"Ketten is drawing good houses. His final recital is announced for Monday, and he will leave for Sydney on Tuesday."

THE TRAMWAY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—Permit me, through the columns of your valuable journal, to bring under notice a nuisance which I think should not be allowed to continue.

A portion of the tramway at present in course of construction opposite my residence is converted into an open forge, where hammering and sharpening picks is carried on during the entire night and until 6 o'clock in the morning, thus preventing my family at all events, if not others as well, from enjoying their natural night's rest.

I consider it a very great hardship indeed that any citizen's family should be deprived in this manner of their rest night after night, particularly when other more suitable and unobjectionable places could be quite easily obtained.

I am, yours, &c., J. C. GILHOOLEY.

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE N. S. W. COURSING CLUB.

LAST AUTUMN MEETING.

Patron: His Excellency the Right Hon. Lord Augustus Loftus, G.C.B. President: Mr. E. Lee. Stewards: Messrs. G. Lee, W. Lamb, H. M'Quade, R. L. Tooth, W. R. Hall. Field Stewards: Messrs. M. Fossett, A. H. Gardener, W. E. Langley, G. L. Lord, J. Weir, P. Lamb, F. Weston, W. Lee, jun., T. M. Giblin, G. Hill, jun., G. W. Thornton, W. B. Walford, W. S. Suttor, T. S. Clibborn, J. Cassidy, J. S. Smith, A. Town. Judge: Mr. R. J. M'Culloch. Slip Steward: Mr. C. C. Skarratt. Slipper: Mr. Cuncliffe. Flag Steward: Mr. G. Denny. Secretary: Mr. C. S. Gregory.

The third meeting this season of the premier club commenced on Saturday, on Mr. Lamb's estate, at Rooty Hill, and never was there a more enjoyable day's sport in a coursing field. Splendid weather, strong hares, so plentiful that seven were a-foot at the same time making for cover, and good trials, were all that the outside public could wish for, and to this was added careful judging, and a vast improvement in slipping as compared with the previous Woodstock meeting. It was Cuncliffe's first appearance in public, and we only reassert what was said by all present that his slipping has here only been excelled by that of Wilson. A very large number of visitors left Sydney by the special train at 9 a.m., Mr. Read, the traffic manager of the railway department, being at the Redfern station to see that everything was conducive to the arrangements of the club, and in an hour the squire of Woodstock was welcoming his guests at Rooty Hill. It was after 11 a.m. when the first pair of dogs were sent to the care of Mr. Skarratt, and from that time until 4.30 twenty-eight courses and an undecided were run off, besides a full hour for lunch. To any one who saw the last Waterloo in Melbourne this was quite a relief.

The Leger commenced in the paddock fronting the homestead, with Lelantus leading My Lord from a short slip to the turn, when My Lord got placed and wrenched twice as the hare rose the hill; Lelantus then got in, led out of sight, and won. Barrister and Temerity were slipped down the hill, the latter doing all the work until they passed the waterhole, when Barrister scored a wrench, and Temerity taking charge, finished with a brilliant kill. From a capital slip Fugitive led Bess Blackburn four lengths to the hare, and held command across the creek. Bess then got in and scored off her rival's turn, but Fugitive was not to be denied, and won easily. Ladybird and Clare had a strong hare, and went away very level down hill, Ladybird with a trifle the best of it; Clare then took command, and making a strong drive, fell: the black was doing good work when Clare made up for lost time, and, after several exchanges, got the judge's fiat. Her brother, Closero, met Telescope over the same ground, never allowed the latter to score, then got after a second hare, and pumped himself out before being picked up. Cæsar, another of the same litter, gave Lightning an unmistakable beating, as far as speed was concerned, but neither made a turn before they went out of sight. Belle Olga and Humboldt were some time in the slips before a hare could be got. Humboldt led down hill across the creek and up to the spectators, wrenching cleverly; Belle got in once on the side of the hill, but could not keep it, her opponent giving her a go-by and a beating. Handsome Girl made an exhibition of Hopbloom in a short course, the latter never getting in. From the next paddock Money had all the work in a long course, fairly galloping over Petrea from start to finish. Little Ned shaped better with Lola than he did at the previous meeting; but, after leading up, did not work equal to Lola in a good up-hill trial, which the latter won. Meg Merrilies led Sunbeam for the turn and several wrenches, the blue only getting in from where the hare swerved towards her. Columbia and Hawthornden opened the New Plumpton Stakes with rather a one-sided trial along the side of the hill. Hawthornden went in something like the style he showed last season, when he beat Lucifer and had ten to one the best of a good trial.

Lethe and Hartington went away locked together, until they were close to the hare, at which the latter made a strong drive, and overran his game. Several exchanges followed, and Hartington killed well off Lethe's turn, but lost. Wyndham led Furland four lengths until they got close to the hare, then the black put on steam and got level, but failed to score first; after getting placed he fleshed, and let Wyndham in, then scored a go-by, and afterwards allowed Wyndham to add up a respectable balance in her favour. Skating Rink showed her heels to Helpmate at the start, the latter being out of sorts, though making a few points before the hare got to cover, followed by Cremorne, who flew the fence grandly, but was not lucky enough to secure the judge's award. W. G. and Jorrocks had a hare that played with both of them, but at the finish Jorrocks was in front, and won. Keepsake and Lambton had an undecided, and in the run off the latter could have won if he liked to try, but did the cunning, allowing Keepsake to beat him. Turquoise and Lelape kept well together for some distance in the big paddock behind the house, and after Lelape scored the blue showed most pace, but, going very wide at the turns, let Lelape cut him out and win. Royal Charlie met his master in Tazmotion, and was beaten pointless. After which an adjournment for lunch took place.

After refreshment, sport was resumed with the Metropolitan Cup, for which Bankstown and Lorna Doon were first placed in the slips, and a hare was sent from the big cover. Bankstown was the first to show in front, but only for a brief space, as Lorna went by and scored the turn. Bankstown then put in a point, and Lorna coming again held the lead to cover, and won. Hamish had the foot of Lelex in the run up, and was in front until the hare swerved, and Lelex led as they got to the dip of the hill, out of sight; when they next appeared Hamish, after an exchange, had given place to Lelex, in whose favour the flag went up. Bracelet was slipped with Queen of the East, and the latter led up for about two hundred yards. Bracelet then went up to the fore, and put in point after point, with the Sportsman shut doing a full share of work for a puppy. After exchanging going down hill, and a pumper to the flat, Bracelet won. The Leger first ties then commenced by Lelantus and Temerity going away very close together, and keeping so across the flat, until the hare swerved towards the flat, and the black went to the fore, and after a give-and-take course the flag went up for Temerity. Fugitive led Clare for the turn, and after a down-hill turn won. Closero and Humboldt were the next pair—the former lasted longest, and won. Handsome Girl was a good bit faster than Cæsar, and worked much closer from start to finish. Money and Lola were dispatched after a circling hare, which took along the fence towards the house, and after some few exchanges Lola drew away steadily, and had some points the best at close. Meg Merriles ran a bye.

FOOTBALL.

WARATAH v. REDFERN.—The principal match on Moore Park last Saturday afternoon was that between the Waratah and Redfern Clubs, which again resulted in favour of Waratah by two goals to one; Redfern also being compelled to touch down behind their own goal about fifteen times. There were between 2000 and 3000 spectators present, who, to judge by the frequent applause, took great interest in the respective teams. The play all through was very rough, several players receiving nasty cuts and bruises about the head and face. Galloway of Redfern, too, was rendered unconscious for about ten minutes from a fall he got through a collision with an opposing player. Some splendid runs were made during the afternoon, principally by Galloway, Harnett, Mulcahy, Phillips, Lee, Williams, and Howard, the latter especially distinguishing himself by the manner in which he dodged through his opponents. Play commenced at 3.20, and about 15 minutes afterwards J. Mulcahy secured a try for Redfern, from which he scored a goal. Nothing further was gained until within 20 minutes of time, when Phillips secured a difficult try for Waratah, and soon afterwards Lee gained another, from both of which the former kicked goals.

ARFOMA v. COLLINGWOOD.—A match between the above clubs was played at Burwood on Saturday last, and resulted in an easy victory for the Arfoma by seven goals and four tries to nil. Until half-time the Collingwoods played very well, but after that the Arfoma had the game all their own way.

BALMAIN v. GLENHEAD.—These two clubs met for the second time this season on Saturday, at Moore Park, and as the Glenheads had only suffered defeat once this season by the University club, and the Balmain club had beaten all their opponents with the exception of the Wallaroos, a very close game was anticipated. There was a steady north-east breeze blowing all the afternoon, and against this Balmain kicked off. It was seen from the start that it would be a hard game, for both sides were determined to make it as fast as possible, this style of play just suiting them, and the ball went here there and everywhere, until, it being well thrown in from bounds, R. Thallon got hold of it and managed to get first try for Balmain, which he quickly converted into a goal. The Glenheads played harder than ever after this, and drove the ball towards the Balmain goal line, close to which a scrimmage was formed, and one of the Glenheads getting possession, fell over the line with it, and scored first try for Glenhead. The kick at goal was a difficult one and failed to score, after which Balmain kicked out, but the Glenhead team playing well together, after another fifteen minutes, obtained another try, from which Butler kicked a goal. Shortly after this half-time was called, and Balmain now having the wind in their favour, kept the ball uncomfortably close to the Glenhead goal for some time till some kicking by a Glenhead halfback sent the ball into F. Thallon's hands, and he, nothing loth, started off with it, and succeeded in getting second try for Balmain, from which, however, nothing was scored. The game being thus far equal, both sides worked with a will, but the Balmain again sent the ball towards their opponents' territory, where Buscott seized it as it came out of a scrimmage, and by a very neat run in, scored third try for Balmain; but the kick at goal was a failure, and the Glenheads again kicked out; nothing more was obtained by either side until time was called, Balmain thus winning one of the best contested matches of the season by a try. During the game Balmain totalled down behind their own line three times, and the Glenheads five.

Our West Maitland correspondent telegraphs:—A football match between the Carltons and Albions took place on the Racecourse this (Saturday) afternoon. The former won by one goal and a try to one goal.

Our Bathurst correspondent telegraphed on Saturday:—A football match took place to-day on the Ordnance Ground between fifteen of St. Leonards Club, Sydney, and the same number of All Saints' College. The play was good on both sides, and St. Leonards had the best of the match, getting two touches down to one obtained by their

NEW SOUTH WALES ROWING ASSOCIATION.

The committee of the New South Wales Rowing Association met as usual on Friday evening. There was a very large attendance of members. Mr. J. W. M'Cutcheon occupied the chair. Several new members were elected—viz., Messrs. A. Bros, F. Wright, C. J. Roberts, and J. Wilson. Discussion took place with reference to a matter which one already afforded some interest at the rowing sheds and elsewhere. Regatta regulation No. 1 provides that "only members of the association are eligible to compete in any of the races held under its auspices." This is considered by certain sections of our rowing men to press heavily on the juniors, and a proposition has been put forward to allow any member of an associated club to compete, with the stipulation that the five guineas now subscribed by each club shall be increased. In consequence of a by-law providing that "no motion to make, alter, or rescind any by-laws or regulations shall be brought forward except by giving one month's notice in writing to the secretary," the settlement of a matter which so materially affects our amateur pullers and the success of the first regatta of the association will have to be postponed until the next monthly meeting. Each member of the committee last evening, however, expressed his earnest desire to meet the wishes of the members of the various clubs and a determination to make the first regatta an unbounded success. Any intending competitor, being a non-member, will be perfectly safe to go into training, as various notices of motion have been given, any one of which if carried will meet the difficulty. The treasurer reported that the finances of the association were in a more satisfactory state, but that several subscriptions still remain unpaid.

THE TREATY OF GUNDAMUCK.

(From the Daily News.)

The ancient philosophy of India taught that all visible things in this world were only Maya, or illusion. The history of the Treaty of Gundamuck presents to our minds a good and illustrative homily to the above text. That treaty was signed on the 26th May last year, now very nearly 12 months ago. The arrest of Habib Ullah Khan, the Mastuat, at Sheopur, which a recent telegram informs us of, may be looked upon as the close of a drama containing tragic incidents which might almost rank it with what has come down to us through the works of Æschylus. Habib Ullah Khan was the Finance Minister of the Ameer Yakoob Khan, and he with Daud Shah, the Sipah Salar, or Commander-in-Chief, formed what may be termed Yakoob Khan's Cabinet. They came to Gundamuck with him in May of last year, and were his trusted advisers in arranging the terms of the treaty. On our side was Cavagnari, as the Viceroy's Plenipotentiary, and his assistant secretary, Mr. Jenkyns. The telegraph placed them in close communication with Lord Lytton, at Simla. Long telegrams in cipher were constantly passing, Major Cavagnari only possessing the key to them at Gundamuck, and it added much to his labours to transpose them. Yakoob Khan arrived at Gundamuck on the 8th May, and it took till the 26th to get it all settled and ready for signature. Nearly the whole of the night of the 25th was spent by Major Cavagnari in his tent writing out the English version of the treaty on the parchments. There were two copies, and in the first column of each it was in our language, while the second column contained the Persian translation. This part of it was copied out next day by Bukhtiyar Khan, one of our native officials, and by Mirza Mahomed Nobi Khan, the private secretary of Yakoob Khan. Both copies were ready in the afternoon, and were taken to the Ameer's tent, where in the presence of Daud Shah, Habib Ullah Khan, and Mr. Jenkyns, Bukhtiyar Khan and the Mirza being the only attendants, Yakoob Khan signed for himself and Government, and Major Cavagnari signed for the Viceroy and Government of India. The same evening Mr. Jenkyns started for Simla with the two copies slung in a case on his back, and he made a wonderfully rapid ride into Peshawur. A day or so afterwards the telegraph announced the ratification of the Treaty of Gundamuck by the Viceroy, and a salvo of 31 guns, it was the heavy 40-pounders, echoed the event over the stony slopes of Too-too and Ishpan, and up the steep sides of the Suffaid Koh. Reviews, inspections and visits followed. The second Afghan war was finished, and the army retired to the line of its Scientific Frontier. The return of Agamemnon from Troy could not have been hailed with more satisfaction. It was a military triumph and a great political success.

Before the year has run round these two pieces of parchment have no other value beyond that of being historical curiosities. The fate of the gallant Cavagnari and his coadjutor Jenkyns we all know. They have found "peace without honour" in a sense which all will accept. Major Cavagnari became Sir Louis Cavagnari as a reward for his most able services in a political capacity during the war. His honour in the work has nothing to do with the value of the treaty, or with its after results. A certain policy and object were given, and his merit lay in the patience and tenacity with which he carried out the one and finally reached the other. Following close on the fate of these prominent actors came the fall of the Ameer Yakoob Khan. He was made a prisoner, and uncertain stigmas of disgrace were connected with his name. He is now an exile in a foreign land. Daud Shah followed and shared his captivity. The Mastauli was trusted, and has been actively employed by our Government; but, before the cycle of 12 months has come to an end, his fate has also been sealed, and he is a prisoner in our hands, and will most probably become a companion of the other two who with him assisted to produce the Treaty of Gundamuck. These State prisoners, with their characters tarnished as they seem to be, are not likely again ever to appear as political counsellors, or take part in the negotiations of treaties again.

Lord Lytton, the last of those who took an active hand in the Treaty of Gundamuck, has not fallen like Cavagnari, nor lost his reputation, like the others, but his disappearance from the scene is also close at hand. Already the telegrams have informed us that he has refused to enter into affairs which might commit his successor, so that he only awaits the arrival of Lord Ripon to make his bow and retire, and then the curtain will have fallen on the Treaty of Gundamuck, and on all those connected with it. The fate of the Government who inspired the policy leading to these events might also be touched upon, but only to show how complete the wiping-out process has been. A Greek chorus would not have failed to point out the dread Nemesis which has taken place. Our politicians, on whatever side they may be, may no doubt look on this in a different light, and will probably only see in it the wickedness of their opponents. These events have not been here retold for them, but for the minds of reflective people who care too look at history from a more serious point of view. The political quibblers will also pass away, but this sad and tragic episode will remain.

THE ART OF CONSUMET IS LOST WITHOUT THE ART OF EATING.—A gentleman writes:—"When I feel out of sorts I take a dose of ENO'S FRUIT SALT one hour before dinner; the effect is all I could wish." How to enjoy good food, that would otherwise cause biliousness, headache, or disordered stomach, use ENO'S FRUIT SALT. All chemists. Price 2s 6d and 4s 6d.—ADV.
